Infantrymen Battle Toward Junction On Mindanao Slowed Only By Blown Bridges

RECORD FORMOSA RAID

By DEAN SCHEIDER

Manila, May 22—(P)—The heaviest air strikes ever made on Formosa in four months of raiding by Philippines-based bombers were reported today as U. S. Infantrymen wiped out 500 encircled Japanese on central Luzon island and drove toward a junction on Mindanao slowed only by blown bridges.

Associated Press War Correspondent Russell Brines reported from the 5th Air Force base that airmen returning from last Saturday's record raid on Formosa had sunk six ships and 36 small craft and damaged 14 other vessels of all types.

A total of 9,000 tons of explosives have been rained on Formosa war industries, airbases, transportation facilities and military installations since the first bomber struck from the Philippines January 11.

Just three days after capture of Ipo dam in the Manila watershed, Doughboys of the 43rd Division, aided by guerrillas, wiped out two-thirds of a large enemy force trapped in the area, a spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

A few miles to the southeast, the 28th Infantry Division drove toward Wawa dam. Some 150 planes of the Fifth Air Force paved the way with explosives and fire bombs.

The First Cavalry ran into stiff opposition nine miles south of Infanta on central Luzon's east coast while other Yanks drove steadily ahead down Balaite Pass toward the Cagayan valley, bread-basket of northern Luzon. Bombers and fighters closely supported the Balaite action, plastering objectives with 238 tons of explosives.

In north central Mindanao, the 31st and 40th Divisions were only 25 miles apart in their drive to split the second largest Philippine island. Between them lies a considerable Japanese force.

Driving north along the Sayre highway, the 31st advanced 10 miles to within one mile of Malaybalay, of Bukidnon province.

On southern Mindanao the 24th Infantry Division captured Sasa airfield north of Davao, fifth of the area's six airfields to fall. Japanese resisted fiercely.

Australian and Dutch troops on Tarakan island off Borneo drove to within three miles of the north coast.

Protest French In Syria and Lebanon

By FRANK O'BRIEN

Cairo, May 22—(P)—Agitation against reinforcement of French troops in Syria and Lebanon spread through the Pan-Arab states today following the killing of eight persons and the wounding of 25 others in a clash with French forces in the Syrian city of Aleppo.

An Arab general strike throughout Palestine was forecast in reports to Cairo as the newly-formed Pan-Arab League rallied around Syria and Lebanon.

At Damascus Syria's acting premier, Djamil Mardam Bey, announced that both countries had refused to negotiate further with France.

Parliaments of Syria and Lebanon were scheduled to meet during the day. Arab circles in Cairo predicted that pro-west work stoppages in both countries, which formerly were under French mandate, would be used to "create an atmosphere of calm."

22,000 Liberated Men To Be Back In States This Month

New York, May 22—(P)—A camouflaged Allied transport carrying 2,953 cheering and singing veterans of the European war nosed its way into New York harbor today and docked in the North river.

Army officials said American soldiers would be taken by ferry to Jersey City where they will enter for Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Washington, May 22—(P)—Some 22,000 American soldiers liberated from Germany in the closing stages of the war will be back in the United States by the end of this month.

Others of the 100,000 held by Germany as the collapse came will be sent home as swiftly as possible, the war department says. The men are coming back both by air transport and ship.

Mutual Aid Will Continue President Says In Report On Lend-Lease Operations

Washington, May 22—(P)—President Truman said today American, British and Canadian reconversion plans are being coordinated so that each country will bear its fair share of the Pacific war burden. He added in transmitting the 19th report on lend-lease operations to congress that the mutual aid program will continue as "a military necessity" until final victory.

"There will be substantial reductions in the total volume of Allied war production, now that Germany has been defeated," the report said. "Both in the United States and abroad, these reductions will permit some reconversion from war to civilian production and some increase in commercial exports."

"Plans for reconversion in the United States, Britain and Canada are being co-ordinated on a broad front so that these nations will be devoting equitable shares of industrial capacity to the war against Japan."

Total lend-lease shipments to Russia for the period covered by the report were listed at $8,410,000,000, with $3,285,000,000 sent in the last 12 months. Included were 13,300 airplanes, "more than any other ally," 6,800 tanks and 312,000 tons of explosives.

Lend-lease aid to Allies amounted to $38,971,797,000, exclusive of consignments valued at $874,382,000 to commanding generals for transfer in the field to lend-lease countries. Most of the latter were turned over to the French forces in North Africa and to China.

Actual exports totaled $29,310,457,000. In addition to the shipments to Russia, Britain received $12,775,392,000; Africa, the Middle East and Mediterranean area $3,813,058,000; China and India $2,023,539,000; Australia and New Zealand $1,257,089,000; Latin America $226,859,000 and other countries $805,025,000.

Says Russia Will War Against Japan

Washington, May 22—(P)—Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) predicted today that Russia will join the war against Japan.

Mansfield added in a speech prepared for house delivery that unless China is unified soon, such a development might split China into two separate states.

Disunity in China is so great, said Mansfield, who recently served as a personal observer for President Roosevelt in the India-Burma-China theatre, it may force this country to switch its strategy in the war with Japan.

If China is not unified, he declared, "it is quite possible that we will shift our plans for beach-heads on the China coast to a direct assault on the Japanese home islands themselves."

"The U. S. S. R. will, in my opinion, enter the war against Japan," Mansfield said.

PRICE INCREASES IN STEEL ANNOUNCED

Washington, May 22—(P)—Price increases of $2 to $7 a ton for 14 basic steel mill products have been authorized by OPA, effective Wednesday.

While the price agency sidestepped any clear-cut estimate of what the increases mean in dollars and cents, some trade sources estimated them at from $80,000 to $100,000,000 a year, based on the industry's present heavy volume.

OPA said they amount to less than 2 per cent of total sales of all steel products covered by price control.

The increases take into account the so-called fringe wage increases authorized several months ago, as well as higher coal costs.

Quaker City Stores Have Little Meat

Philadelphia, May 22—(P)—Approximately 19,000 food stores in eastern Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey have only enough meat to supply one fourth of their customers, Fred S. Davis, executive secretary of the Food Distributors Association of the metropolitan trade area, said yesterday.

"Only 25 per cent of the 24,000 stores in this area have anywhere near the normal meat supplies," Davis said. "The rest either have no meat at all or only enough for two full days of operation a week."

Meanwhile, OPA announced it had ordered a widespread enforcement drive on violations of retail, home sale and slaughtered meat prices to stamp out "black markets."

Tito Changes Attitude On Trieste Issue

London, May 22—(P)—Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito appeared today to have executed a complete about-face in his attitude toward the occupation of Trieste and the surrounding area, giving rise to speculation in London that he might have received a friendly suggestion from Moscow to change his stand.

Diplomatic sources close to the British foreign office said the situation was "definitely improved."

Tito was withdrawing his Partisan forces from southern Austria, one of the points of dispute, and Yugoslav occupation headquarters had been removed from Trieste, although both British and Partisan troops remained in the Adriatic port.

There were indications of Tito's apparent readiness to discuss with Italy a long-term status of the disputed territory and with the Allies the present status of occupation. Sources close to the British foreign office believed the matter of immediate occupation would be settled through diplomatic channels, rather than through direct talks with Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Allied Mediterranean commander.

It was believed in London that the Yugoslavs were prepared to agree to a peaceful but temporary settlement of the dispute and would press their territorial claims at the peace conference.

Trieste, May 22—(P)—Eighty army troops—both British and Americans—moved east and north today from Isonzo river and the coastal road to Trieste in a peaceful penetration of the hilly country overlooking the former positions of the political deadlock over Trieste brought back the uneasy conditions of ten days ago.

Allied trucks, tanks and armored cars moved over the roads north of Trieste in the Gorizia area.

STETTINIUS WILL CONFER WITH TRUMAN

Secretary of State To Discuss With President Mounting War-End Crises

GREAT TASKS AWAITING

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic News Editor

San Francisco, May 22—(P)—Secretary of State Stettinius leaves the United Nations conference today for a hurried trip to Washington to confer with President Truman on mounting war-end crises in Europe.

His departure from the conference, at which he is the official host, follows trips homeward by Russian Foreign Commissar Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault. There is some talk that Foreign Minister Padilla of Mexico also may depart soon. Unlike the others, however, Stettinius plans to return within a few days. In the meantime, leadership of the American delegation falls to Senators Connally (D-Tex) and Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Today finds the conference moving at top speed toward an early June finish, but with the prospect that agreement here on machinery to secure future peace will leave an enormous amount of work to be done on Allies cooperation in solving urgent post-war problems.

Stettinius himself gave no clue as to the purpose if his Washington trip, except to say it was not to discuss conference questions with the president. A dispatch from Rijssen, Holland, however, offered a possible hint on what may come up.

This story disclosed that plans for joint Allied occupation of Berlin—which were agreed upon months ago by Russia, Britain and the United States—had hit a snag and "the whole situation now is uncertain."

Other urgent problems for possible consideration by the president and secretary of state included: Mr. Truman's announced intention to meet General Charles De Gaulle of France, the likelihood of a Big Three meeting sometime this summer, the necessity of seeking a way out of the Big 3 deadlock over Poland, the delay in plans for joint Allied occupation of Austria now in the Russian military zone, and the need to begin laying plans for one or more peace conferences.

Tito was withdrawing his Partisan forces from southern Austria, one of the points of dispute, and Yugoslav occupation headquarters had been removed from Trieste, although both British and Partisan troops remained in the Adriatic port.

Million Tons Less Sugar For This Year

Washington, May 22—(P)—Civilians—manufacturers and householders alike—will have a million tons less sugar this year than last.

Reporting this today, the house committee urgently recommended appointment of a single administrator to coordinate sugar controls now spread through a score of government agencies.

Otherwise, it asserted, reserve stockpiles which now are vanishing will be gone entirely in 1946. There were reports, meanwhile, that two men were under consideration as possible sugar coordinators: Earl Wilson, sugar branch director of the Commodity Credit Corporation, and Joshua Bernhart, head of the War Food Administration's sugar division.

Wilson, formerly a vice president of the National Sugar Refining Co., conferred with President Truman last week.

"Only when the housewife finds how little sugar is going to be available under the contemplated program which provides five pounds per person for a four-month period, will the full impact of the shortage be realized," the committee said in a unanimous report.

Question of Isolationism Is Injected Into Tariff Debate

Washington, May 22—(P)—Rep. Doughton (D-NC) opened the administration's tariff battle today by telling the house its vote will test whether America is willing to cooperate with other nations or prefers isolationism.

The 81-year-old ways and means committee chairman called for enactment of legislation giving President Truman broad new authority to cut duties in reciprocal trade agreements with other nations.

His prepared speech opened another historic floor battle on the tariff issue, with party lines sharply drawn.

Republican opponents, led by Rep. Knutson (Minn.), contend the administration trade program would open American business to the competition of low paid labor abroad, cause industries to close and result in unemployment.

Democratic leaders predicted victory—they have 242 house seats to 189 for the Republicans. The GOP camp was gloomy, but Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said things would be different when the senate takes hold of the legislation.

The issue is embodied in a bill proposing to give President Truman new authority to reduce tariffs. (Turn to Page Seven)

O. C. D. Future Is To Be Considered

Harrisburg, May 22—(P)—Curtailed of Civilian Defense in Pennsylvania was indicated today as the State Defense Council met to consider future activities.

Liquidation of the federal Office of Civilian Defense earlier in the month prompted Governor Martin to call the council meeting.

The executive promised recommendations on whether to continue Civilian Defense in part or demolish it entirely, pointing to organization on a defensive basis such as air raid protection and offensive dealing with victory gardens and salvage drives.

The 1941 legislature authorized establishment of the defense system to co-ordinate the commonwealth's war effort. Recent activities were directed to setting up a statewide disaster relief organization. Latest reports show 1,320,119 volunteers enrolled in various units.

Two Killed In A Freakish Wreck

Railroad officials reported the crew of the other freight said cables holding a load of 100 poles had become loosened, and most of them were apparently scattered along the right of way. Only 13 poles remained when the train reached Conway, Pa.

The wrecked train was en route from Conway to Crestline.

First Army Soon Will Be Stalking Japs

Washington, May 22—(P)—The American First army, which blazed a path for Allied troops across the German frontier and broke the Siegfried line, soon will be stalking Japanese.

Numbering some 150,000 men a month ago, the army commanded by Gen. Courtney H. Hodges is being redeployed by way of the United States, with 30-day furloughs awaiting its members here.

It is the first sizeable contingent the war department has officially announced will move from the European theater to the Pacific.

MARINES PUSH BACK BLOODY JAP ATTACKS

Estimated 500 Nips, Some Wearing American Uniforms, Repulsed With Heavy Losses

PATROLS IN YONABARU

By JAMES LINDSEY

Guam, May 22—(P)—American infantrymen and Marines fought toward the battered fortress city of Shuri from three sides today against fierce Japanese resistance as Yank patrols entered Yonabaru and bloody enemy counterattacks were beaten back by determined Marines.

An estimated five hundred Japanese, some of them wearing American Marine uniforms and carrying U. S. weapons, counterattacked fiercely against the Fourth Marine Regiment of the Sixth Marine Division on Sugar Loaf Hill, with heavy casualties exacted on both sides.

Two hundred dead Japanese were found after the attack was repulsed and at least 100 others were believed killed but Marine casualties also were heavy.

Across the island, the 381st Regiment of the 96th Infantry Division sent two patrols into Yonabaru, one along the seaway and the other along the road.

The 77th Division, in the center of the line, caught the enemy off balance with a surprise pre-dawn attack and within an hour and a quarter had captured the town of Taira, 500 yards from Shuri, where from high ground they looked upon the smoking ruins of the one-time second largest Okinawa City.

The 307th Regiment, using tanks, flamethrowers, and self-propelled guns, made a surprise assault upon a hill 100 yards east of Shuri late Sunday, killing almost 300 Japanese in taking the hill and paving the way for later advances in extremely bitter fighting.

Associated Press War Correspondent Al Dopping said the Sugar Loaf Hill action was preceded by an hour and a half of intense Japanese artillery and mortar shelling. Brig. Gen. Walter Dumas of the Tenth army staff told Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland that Shuri, in the center of the line, no longer has military importance and the break-through to the city will not be followed by immediate occupation.

All high ground around Shuri, whose ancient castle fortress is shattered by shells and bombs, must be secured before any use can be made of that second city of Okinawa.

One of the heights yet to be taken is Half Moon Hill, a few hundred yards from the main Sugar Loaf Hill in the Sixth Marine sector on the west flank.

Half Moon Hill is believed connected with Sugar Loaf by tunnels. This means of reinforcement and (Turn to Page Two)

More Local Service Men Are Liberated

News of three more local servicemen liberated from German prison camps is learned today by their families.

Mrs. Keith E. Chase, 104 Main street, North Warren, has received word that her husband, a prisoner since December 18, is now free. The information came in a Red Cross message dated May 16.

Trene Tremblay, of Russell, has had a V-Mail letter from her husband, Pvt. Clifford Tremblay, written May 6 and stating he had been freed. After hiking five days he reached the American lines, to have one of his hopes come true, that of eating K-rations once more after a winter of living on soup and "good old Red Cross boxes of food". He writes that he is well and expects to be back in the States soon. Pvt. Tremblay left Warren with Company I in February 1941 and has been overseas since October, 1942. He was taken prisoner by the Germans on November 8, 1944, in the battle of Hurtgen Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Larson, 4 Maple street, have received a letter from their son, Pvt. Nels H. Larson, written in Hannover, Germany, on May 9, in which he tells of having been liberated from a German prison camp and of his expectations of being flown to Port Le Havre on the following day. He writes that he was liberated May 4 by the Russians and had an exciting time in a panic of Germans when the Red army overtook them. He concludes by saying he expects to be home the end of this month.

Thirty Hear Reports On Recreation

About 30 persons assembled in the small court room at the court house last evening for a meeting called to consider coordination of all recreational activities and provided over by John G. Rossman, superintendent of schools.

Speakers were Mr. Rossman, who presented a report; Ralph Wagner, who discussed work of the member agencies of the Council of Community Agencies, and Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig, who presented a summary.

It was shown that 46 agencies had been contacted by the committee for representation at this meeting and that 15 had responded. Reports showed youth membership in the various agencies in relation to their enrollment at high school an Beatty building, with discussion of such questions as what youth organizations are there in the community? To how many organizations do the youth belong? Are there some youth who belong to no organization? Is membership in church and Sunday school the only affiliation of many youth? Are regular attendance and belonging the same thing? In terms of numbers and age groups, how does membership in these organizations vary? Does the place of residence condition to any extent organization membership? Are the youths given responsibility, at least in the matter of holding offices in the organizations to which they now belong? In townships outside the borough, do youth attending Warren High School grades 9, 10, 11 and 12 have the same advantage or lack them as do school youth in the borough.

From a survey of high school and Beatty pupils, reports were given on membership in the Boy Scouts, YMCA, Girl Scouts, PAK, social clubs, Girls' Club, church, Sunday school, church leagues, and no similar survey on those "belonging" to these groups; percentage of office holders among agency members.

No action was taken by the group, the meeting being limited to presentation of reports and discussion of same.

Tuttle Seeks Damages From Richard Smith

An echo of an automobile accident that took place last February was heard yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Tracy Greenlund when Charles Tuttle in a civil suit sought personal damages. Tuttle, Lawrence Wilson and Dennis Mahoney were passengers in a car driven by Elmer Wallace, of Kinzua when the battery of the car went dead. The three men, according to the stories told out to push the car.

Smith approached and the trio saw him coming. He attempted to pass the Wallace car on the right and the three men tried to dodge. Tuttle had both ankles crushed and Wilson and Mahoney were struck on the hip. Tuttle was sent to the hospital where he spent some time undergoing treatment.

Following the taking of evidence Justice Greenlund reserved his finding until May 31 when he will announce his decision.

Johnson, local representative of the International Correspondence Schools at Scranton, has recently earned his first "citation" and has been presented with a suitably inscribed Century Club medal. With the medal he received a personal letter from Ralph E. Weeks, president, commending him for winning the medal in such a difficult year as the one just passed. Mr. Johnson was included in the total of about 100 persons who made the Century Club out of 850 in the United States.

BOUGHT OIL LEASE

An announcement has been made of the purchase of the Hickey-Reig lease near Henry's Mills by the Whittemore Oil Company, of New York City. The lease is a fairly large one and has some undeveloped locations which will be drilled by the new owners. The oil is found in the Cooper sand and a vacuum and flooding operation are both carried on in the lease. S. P. Woodward is treasurer of the Whittemore Company and is spending some time in the locality.

SCORES ONCE MORE

North Warren's hustling Salvage Chairman has scored. Chris Pepke this morning placed one and one-half tons of tin cans in the car on the New York Central siding. The North Warren folk have a general salvage drive every few weeks and are always ready to co-operate to the fullest extent every time a call is made on them. Truck loads of cans are also coming in from other places and the old car should be heaped when it pulls out of Warren, after the curb pickup in Warren, Russell, Youngsville and Pleasant township.

MANY BUYERS EXPECTED

Hundreds of jobbers, dealers, manufacturers, contractors, and other interested persons are expected to attend the sales of Government surplus property scheduled to be held at the Keystone Ordnance Works from May 28 through June 2. More than 8,000 items, new and used—some of it left from the construction period at KOW and other material shipped in from other Government locations especially for this sale—will be made available to bidders at that time. Efforts were made to obtain sleeping accommodations for the many prospective buyers of this material in Meadville without success, so arrangements were made to provide sleeping quarters and meals in the housing allotment at Camp Reynolds.

BURT IN COLLISION

Mrs. Myrtle Schmeidel, Star Route, Ridgway, is a patient in the Warren General Hospital with a painful laceration on the right lower leg, chest injuries and suffering severely from shock, received in a collision between an automobile her husband, William H. Schmeidel, was operating and a station wagon driven by George R. McKinney, Minard Run, on U. S. Route 6, at Irvine Saturday afternoon about 5:45 o'clock. According to the state police report McKinney was enroute west with the station wagon heavily loaded with drilling machinery. When he rounded the curve just west of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, the loan shifted causing the vehicle to serve past the center line directly in the path of the Schmeidel car. The machines met head-on and both were badly damaged. Mr. McKinney was treated at the hospital for a cut over the right eye and slight concussion. Mrs. Schmeidel was brought to the hospital in the Earl Young ambulance.

Selkirk Gunner's Missions Were Anything But Routine

An airman from the Selkirk community, ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress over Europe, is home after 25 missions. Only three of them were anything like routine "milk runs."

His plane was forced down six times.

It crash landed once, five miles from German lines.

It came back with at least one hole from all but three of the missions.

But through all this, only one member of the crew was ever wounded, and he merely had a piece of shrapnel in his shoulder that doesn't bother him enough to take out.

Such is just a part of the story of Staff Sgt. Bertram A. Ongley.

Ministerial Association Has Election

Rev. P. Elmer Landerdahl, minister of Bethlehem Congregational church, was elected president of the Warren County Ministerial Association in the annual business meeting held on Monday.

Others chosen were Rev. R. H. Eggleston, United Brethren, as vice president; Rev. Nore G. Gustafson, St. Paul's Lutheran, as secretary; Rev. Wayne Furman, First Methodist, treasurer.

It was reported an effort will be made to secure Beatty school auditorium for the series of Sunday evening services to be sponsored by the association in the months of July and August.

Members took action, also on a request to the burgess to keep in mind as a post-war project and memorial an open air pavilion where community services might be held.

The annual June picnic was called off, due to wartime difficulties of food and transportation, and this was the final session of the membership until October.

Marines Push Back Bloody Jap Attacks

supply aided the Japanese in driving the Marines off Sugar Loaf's summit ten times before the crest finally was held after the eleventh attack.

The Fifth Regiment of the First Marine Division seared the Japanese from caves and holes on the south slope with flaming oil.

The First Marine Division under Maj. Gen. Pedro Del Valle, an artillery expert, gave the northern approaches to Shuri a night-long shelling in preparation for a tank-led advance.

General Del Valle noted a definite dropping off in Japanese artillery fire as observation posts on the ridges are captured by the relentless Yanks.

Three groups of suicidal Japanese carrying satchel demolition charges tied to their waists tried to destroy tanks of the First Marine Division but all were repulsed.

The heaviest counterattack was in Maj. Gen. Samuel C. Shepherd Jr.'s Sixth Marine Division sector on the west coast near the capital of Naha, which still has not been entered in force pending capture of nearby heights.

This counterblow by 400 to 600 Japanese was fought off, and half the attackers were killed. Some of the Japanese were wearing U. S. Marine uniforms and were armed with American rifles.

SELECTED GROUPS OF GERMANS FREED

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, May 22—(P)—Allied headquarters announced today that selected groups of German prisoners were being given discharges and released to return to farms and factories in a move to facilitate Allied occupation.

The discharge of certain groups of German prisoners and disarmed Volkssturm personnel, as well as certain classes of women prisoners, was authorized by Gen. Eisenhower, the announcement said.

They will revert to full civilian status and as such are not subject to military control beyond that imposed on all civilians in occupied Germany through the military government.

Scranton, May 22—(P)—No new developments were reported this morning as the strike of 400 employees of the Scranton Transit Company entered its third day and all streetcar and bus traffic in Scranton and Lackawanna county was at a standstill.

Mayor Howard J. Snowdon conferred last night with Frank Walsh and Joseph McCarthy, federal mediators, and said he was ready to do anything to bring the union leaders and company officials together to end the strike. The company is expected to issue a statement today.

GIRL CHARGED WITH AIDING JAIL BREAK

Somerset, May 22—(P)—Sixteen-year-old Evelyn Haricom was formally charged yesterday with aiding James Henry Kent, 42, convicted slayer, escape from Somerset county jail May 7.

The girl told officers she left Somerset with Kent but Detective John Chrin, who filed the charge, said police were not satisfied she had told the "whole truth" about Kent's actions after his escape.

Kent, according to the girl, was within 10 miles of Somerset for 10 days after his escape. He was still at large today.

NATIONAL MARITIME DAY

With the twelfth observance of National Maritime Day today, it once again becomes this country's privilege to salute the men and women who build and sail our merchant ships.

The wartime story of the United States Merchant Marine is one of a magnificent contribution to victory. It becomes perhaps even more inspiring in retrospect, as we look back upon the dangerous inadequacy of our merchant fleet at the time of Pearl Harbor, and remember the submarine and plane-infested waters which for so long complicated the tremendous task of supplying the fronts beyond two oceans.

Since December of 1941 our shipyards have built more than 4000 cargo ships and have increased the American merchant fleet's deadweight tonnage more than five-fold. Today this fleet is carrying war materials at the rate of 8000 tons an hour, every hour of the day and every day of the year.

It is this fleet which is now tackling what will certainly be the greatest job of its kind in history, the shipping or transshipping from this country and Britain of supplies for an armed force of perhaps 10,000,000 men in the Pacific theatre—nearly 7000 miles from San Francisco, 14,000 miles from England by way of Panama, and 17,500 from England through the Suez Canal.

And it is this fleet that will make us, at the end of the war, the world's greatest maritime power. In 1939 the United States ranked second to Great Britain with about 11,000,000 deadweight tons of shipping. We now have more than two-thirds of the world's prewar tonnage of 74,000,000.

Our new position is a problem as well as a matter of pride. We can, as the British ambassador, Lord Halifax, said in a speech last fall, "turn the economic life of the world into a mad scramble . . . We can spend some feverish years of jungle life in a cut-throat war of international trade . . . of stealing each other's customers and blackening each other's faces until another Hitler arises to exploit the miseries of the people and multiply them ten-fold by another war."

"On the other hand," Lord Halifax said, "if we can handle these large matters with sufficient foresight, there will be enough on the plate for everybody."

They are large matters, indeed, affecting domestic employment, international relations, world trade and world prosperity. And this country's plan for seeing that there is enough on the plate for everybody has not yet taken concrete form.

But the Maritime Commission has promised that we shall not use our fleet to the detriment of the legitimate needs of other nations whose life blood is international commerce. At the same time, it seems right and necessary that we do not abandon this phase of international leadership which this country has so industriously and courageously earned.

TIN CANS NEEDED IN PACIFIC

Here are a few facts to remember when you are getting your tin cans ready for the countywide collection tomorrow:

Although the current "tin can" contains less than one percent tin, the Government needs every salvaged can it can get.

Because the war has shifted to the Pacific, the need for tin has increased in certain quarters, principally in food containers. The tropical climate requires a heavier protective coat of tin on every can if there is to be adequate protection for military food supplies, and of course there will be heavier shipments of food as more troops are transferred to the Pacific.

See that your tin cans are properly processed and placed in containers on the curb for the collectors early tomorrow morning.

New School Legislation and Effect On the Warren District

Residents of Warren have watched with much interest during the past few months the passage through the State Legislature of House Bill No. 568 under which certain sums are allocated to the schools of the state. This bill has been much misunderstood in various places and many anticipate that it will result in cuts in school taxes, etc. The law is a lengthy one numbering 47 pages and due to the interest which it has aroused to show in some measure how the new law will affect the Warren school district:

$9,700 is the additional amount which the School District of Warren Borough will receive from the State of Pennsylvania if Governor Martin signs House Bill No. 568. This same Bill will require almost half of this total amount to be expended in salary increases.

House Bill No. 568 passed almost unanimously by both the House and the Senate is a compromise between the proposals of the State Education Commission set up by the 1943 Legislature. This Bill proposes to Teachers Association and the State three things:

1. To increase teachers' salaries;
2. To equalize educational opportunities within the State;
3. To decrease the tax burden upon real estate.

one week, she finds it necessary to remain longer to complete much more work than was expected.

Warren citizenry was shocked by the sudden death of W. W. Wright, president of the Metzger-Wright Company. Mr. Wright was stricken with a heart attack while attending a business meeting at the Outing Club.

Teachers' salaries have been fixed by the Legislature in past years so that there has been a minimum. This minimum salary in fourth class districts until recently was $800 per year for an eight-month school. Just a few years ago the minimum was raised to $1000 for a nine-month school. In third class districts of which Warren is one, the minimum for elementary teachers was $1000 and for high school teachers $1200. In third class districts the current law requires four annual increments of $100 each. Thus the maximum salary required by the State in Warren is $1400 in elementary grades and $1600 in high school.

In 1943 the Legislature granted subsidies to be paid out of State funds in an endeavor to help local districts enable teachers to meet the increased cost of living. This new Bill sets the minimum salary at $1400. It provides for seven increases of $100 each. Thus the mandated maximum salary for all teachers becomes $2100. This is a decided step up from the former maxima of $1400 and $1600. In addition to these increases teachers with Master's Degrees are guaranteed two additional increases, or to a maximum of $2300. These higher returns to teachers should remove to some extent the lure of higher wages in other fields which during the past few years has waged such havoc in the teaching field. They should also make teaching a far more attractive profession to young people considering the choice of a vocation.

Warren's maximum salaries at the present time are $2050 and $2250 for grades and high school respectively.

To give all pupils within the State a better minimum program of schooling, this Bill sets up a very complicated formula to de-

Chapter 1
DANCING to the latest swing tune at the Lambert Country Club, Kay Lambert looked into Jimmy Brent's eyes. "Do you like my party?" she asked.

"I like you," he answered, drawing her closer. "When are you going to marry me?"

She wrinkled her nose at him. "Never!" she said lightly. Looking about the wide room, she added, "I'm happy here."

"Well, don't look so darned beautiful and contented about it!" Jimmy grumbled.

Kay had the charm and quality of spirit inherited from her mother, shining Katherine Lambert for whom she was named. Tonight her pale amber gown matched her hair, her blue eyes were glowing; Jimmy's purple orchids on her shoulder deepened the shadow of her lashes.

She looked up at Jimmy and saw a tall, blond young man, very sure of himself. He had the kind of effortless charm that goes with idle living and plenty of money. His father was president of one of the largest banks in Atlanta, but Jimmy looked with light regard upon his easy job there.

KAY wasn't marrying Jimmy. She wasn't in love with him or with anyone. Maybe in several years she'd let herself fall in love, but now it was enough to keep her father's house and to have Francis Lambert for a father to keep up with her social service work for the employees of the Lambert Mill where her father was president and general manager.

As if reading her thoughts, Jimmy said, "I'm warning you. Prepare for the day when Francis brings home another woman."

"Jimmy! Don't be silly. You know Francis wouldn't look at another woman," she said. "When Mother died—that was the end for him."

"I'm only telling you what I grabbed out of the ether."

"Who would the other woman be?"

"She would be the widow Wentworth from Charleston. Remember?" Jimmy sighed expressively. "She's super—she's dim the brightest star in Hollywood."

Kay frowned, remembering Lucia Wentworth whom she'd seen at a few parties in Atlanta last winter. Mrs. Wentworth was attractive, with something studied in her poise, flirting with any unattached wealthy man who might make her the husband she obviously wanted.

"I remember her, but Francis doesn't. You're crazy," Kay smiled as she cast the idea aside. "And you can deny it if you hear it again."

"Then I'll warn you about something else. I always get what I want."

"Yes, you do," Kay agreed. "That's the trouble."

The music changed. Kay and Jimmy began their own special hum and the others formed a circle to watch. He whispered to her, "Let yourself go—you'd love me."

"Modesty is the word for Jimmy!"

"I'll get you yet."

KAY, like a floating golden dream, and Jimmy with his eager eyes and intricate steps, termine a reimbursement fraction. Stated in simple and general terms, the State guarantees every teaching unit in the State $1800 for that teaching unit. This is for the two years 1945 to 1946. After that it guarantees a $2000 program for each teaching unit. In the elementary grades a teaching unit is defined as thirty pupils for each teacher. In the high school the ratio is twenty-two pupils for each teacher. On this brought affectionate smiles and interested comments from the other dancers.

"When are they going to marry?" Ned McAllister asked Barbara Downs.

"Never, I hope," Barbara answered hastily. Then she added, "Kay is really too good for him. She does things—useful things like her mother. You can see that. And Jimmy's lazy."

Barbara was small and pretty with brown eyes and dark hair. She was Kay's most intimate friend and everyone thought she would marry Ned. But Barbara knew she wouldn't, and the reason was hanging over her in a last whirl before he drew her again into his arms.

She turned to Ned to escape the picture of Jimmy's adoring eyes on Kay. She asked, "Is it really true that Francis is marrying that widow in Charleston this evening?"

Ned was vice-president of the mill. He had worked his way up from the bottom, the hard way. Now he was the largest stockholder, next to Francis. His father had started there with old Godfrey Lambert, and the mill employees meant more to Ned than anything else in the world. He was several years older than Barbara and he had never loved any other girl.

"Yes," he answered, and glanced at his wrist watch.

"They're probably married by now."

A frown wrinkled Barbara's forehead. "I don't like it. I know Kay too well. She'll never be happy with that type of woman in her home, taking her mother's place."

Ned considered that as they moved away to dance. "I think Kay can take care of herself. I've seen her chin as stubborn as Francis' when he's arguing at a stockholders' meeting."

"But Francis is her vulnerable point," Barbara said. Then she looked again at Jimmy and wondered how Kay could help loving him.

KAY was looking toward the door. Her father had told her two days ago that he would return from his business trip in time for her dance. It was late now and he hadn't come. She had almost forgotten Jimmy's words about her father and Lucia Wentworth when she'd overheard part of a conversation at the door of the dressing room a few minutes ago. It was Mary Scott who spoke and her voice had carried with anger and exasperation. "But Lucia Wentworth, of all people!" she'd exclaimed. "Why does Francis have to drag her to Lowell?"

The answer had been indistinct, and Kay had turned hastily away—afraid of hearing more.

A Cappella Choir Prepares Concert Program Numbers

Another musical event scheduled for the few remaining days of the present school term is the concert to be given at 8:15 this evening in the high school auditorium by the a cappella choir.

Keep Bridal Reception Simple

laying the table with lustrous white Irish linen damask and decorating it with a lacy arrangement of white lilies, freesia and snapdragon. Move the table to one side of the dining room so that the wall will create a background. Frame the flower arrangement with white tapers set in silver candelabra. (Placing the table against the wall makes a small dining room seem larger and a large gathering less jam-packed. It's also easier to arrange flowers effectively, when they are to be viewed from one side only.)

A silver tray of wedding cake in individual boxes, tied with white ribbons and lilies of the valley, replaces the usual elaborately decorated triple-decker without sacrificing the tradition of a piece of the bride's cake for each guest. (Less confusion, few crumbs, no half-eaten slices unappetizingly left parked among the ash trays.)

Skill in Thinning Out Gives High Food Yield

With few exceptions, more seeds of a vegetable are sown than there is room for plants to mature, so it becomes necessary to thin out the excess plants, to give room for the rest to develop fully.

When this is neglected, and too many plants are left, the harvest is lessened rather than increased, and the quality of the crop may be seriously affected. However you may dislike uprooting tiny plants which grew from seed which you sowed, it must be done.

Sowing thinly in the first place will greatly lessen the work of thinning, and also save seed. To make sure the seeds grow evenly, if your garden soil contains much clay, prepare a special lot of soil in which sand and humus are mixed freely to make it light and porous; and cover the seeds with this, instead of with the heavy garden soil. In sandy, or light loamy soil this will not be necessary.

When beets and carrots are sown thinly, thinning may be left until some are large enough to use. It is the half-grown carrots that are most delicious, and the growth is so much more in length than in the diameter of the root that the thinning process does not disturb the others so much.

Turnips must be thinned before they begin to form. The early turnips are round and flat. They do not grow well if crowded. If thinning is postponed until the roots begin to form the growth of all is checked and the ravages of worms, which are always ready to feed on turnips, are likely to be fatal. If the young plants are pulled up so they stand 4 inches apart in the row in a remarkably quick time they will be large enough to use.

Beets are more easily handled than turnips when they are a little larger, and one should not fail to try the young plants as they are ready to be pulled up. It is a delicious introduction to the garden menu. The beets which are left in the ground should be spaced 2 inches apart.

Butcher Stops Giants, 5-2, With 4 Hits; Lombardi Adds Two Homers To Lead League

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh sounded a warning note to overheated New York Giants fans today after the league leaders had dropped the first game of the opening western invasion.

All was well in the Polo Grounds as Mel Ott's gang slugged the bad men from the west, nine out of 11, but Pirate pitching was too tough to handle last night at Forbes Field and Pittsburgh won 5 to 2.

Max Butcher handcuffed the Giants with four hits, two of them home runs by Ernie Lombardi giving him the undisputed major league lead with nine. Phil Weintraub and Ott were horse-colored as the Bucs settled down for a long home stay.

Pre-season dopesters had labeled the Pirates the chief threat to the St. Louis Cardinals but Frankie Frisch couldn't get his team started in the first few weeks. Despite a 5-5 even split in the east, the best record of any western team, Pittsburgh was still in sixth place.

The eastern "pushovers" upset the "powerful" invaders in the first inter-sectional set, 25 games to 18, with the Giants and Dodgers, who won 8 of 12, showing the way. There were those who expected things to return to normal now that New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Brooklyn were headed into enemy territory.

The Dodgers wound up their home stay on the wrong note, suffering a 4-0 shutout by the St. Louis Cardinals as Blix Donnelly broke a four-game losing streak for his first success of 1946. Manager Leo Duprocher even called on the veteran Curt Davis for his first relief job, a day after he had started against Chicago.

The Cardinals wound up their team with six victories in 13 contests, despite a third Mort Cooper walkout and an epidemic of pitching miseries.

American League teams headed east today after an open date, with a twilight Philadelphia at New York.

As in the National, the home clubs enjoyed a wide success margin in the American east-west contests, averaging 23 of the 35 games played between rainstorms.

Best mark for a visiting team was a sorry 3-5 performance by the Boston Red Sox while the St. Louis Browns struck out in a determined defense of their crown by sweeping eight of nine tilts, including four in a row over their old nemesis, the Yanks.

Chicago kept up its first-place pace by a 6-3 average, while Cleveland took five of nine and Detroit broke even in eight starts.

Warren's 1945 muddball season got off to a heated start last night at Beatty Field as "Shay" Fong's 1945 winners gave the new-ly added Thomas Coupling crew a 19-6 shellacking to continue their streak where they left off last season.

With "Chuck" Denardi limiting the losers to but five hits, the Catholic boys turned on the heat in every inning but two, when they failed to send a runner across home plate.

St. Joe's led off in the last of the first with four tallies, followed by seven more in the second to hold a 11-0 lead before Thomas could score. The coupling experts came through in the first of the third with two, making it 11-2, but St. Joe's came back with another in their half of the third to increase their margin to 12-2.

"Red" Tonne paced the Catholic proteges with a homer in the opening inning with the pads loaded, and Joe Scialise connected for homers in the fifth and seventh innings to bolster the St. Joe's attack.

Neither crew scored in the fourth, but last year's winners scored two each in the fifth and sixth to make their lead 16-2, before Thomas came back to score two more in the seventh. The Fontenay added three more in the seventh to boost their total to nineteen.

Thomas scored single tallies in the last two innings, while St. Joe's failed to come through in their half of the eighth.

Tomorrow night, the First Methodist tangle with Sylvania at six o'clock.

Letter To Sports Editor
Sir:
Another soft ball season is rolling around and St. Jos. again will be represented in the YMCA church league.

Although we are the 45-44 champions, which we took with ease losing one game in two years, we are looking towards a tough campaign this season, not that the other teams are strong, but that we have lost a number of key players due to the fact that they have large families and did not want to risk being injured and be out of work for a couple of weeks.

Spikes or no spikes.
Our team is really disappointed that we are not allowed to wear spikes, but will go along with the decisions of the league officials even if we have to wear our Sunday shoes to play. So to the rest of the teams the St. Jos. players say, we are still champs until a better team comes along. Who will that team be? Prove it.

"YES MAN"
My name is Dorothy Baker. I'm the "Yes Man" at Personal Finance Co. . . . that is—I'm the one who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal Loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the one who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty St., second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

Juliano Hurls Locals To 12-0 Win Over YHS

Last night at Russell Field, the Warren High School baseballers turned in a 12-0 win over Youngsville High diamonds, with Tom Juliano turning in a three-hitter for the local combine.

In the first inning, neither team scored, although Juliano connected for a triple but was left stranded. The Warren crew scored in the last of the third after the first three batters took bases on an error, a single, a walk, and two men scored when Tubbs threw a wild pitch.

The locals came back to blast five more across home plate in the fourth, with Dean Whitaker connecting for three out of four and Bill Massa recording two out of four. At the end of four innings, Warren held a 7-0 lead, and they scored again in the fifth with Red Wollaston crossing the plate to make it 8-0.

Tubbs had an off day for Youngsville, throwing wildly and issuing seven walks. Just the opposite was Juliano, who walked but one man and retired 14 men via strikeouts.

The high schoolers finished their scoring in the sixth when they added four more runs.

Tonight, Warren plays a return engagement at Wilder Field, where Lopez or Bartholomew on the mound for Warren.

Elks Bowlers Hold Annual Party; Elect 1946 Officers

The annual party of the Elks Bowling league held last evening with about 175 in attendance again proved the highlight of a most successful season among the Antlered leggers.

During the dinner that preceded the entertainment officers for the coming year were elected. S. E. Kure who headed the league through one of the best seasons it has had was re-elected president. Other officers are: Jack Allen, vice president; Fred Baldensperger, treasurer; Ralph Ruggaber, secretary.

Members of the Tasty Bakery team, champions of the season, were given awards and called upon for short remarks. They were Fred Baldensperger, captain, Leo Felsky, L. Linder, J. M. Bailey, Jim McCool, Barney Peterson, Don Zibbe, Bob Check, Johnny Monroe, of the Soda Mineral team, received an award for his high single game of the season of 258; Jimmy Sealise was likewise honored for having high season's average; Jim Thomas for high three games.

Two "veteran" bowlers were honored for 25 years of consecutive bowling activity in the club—Victor McLaughlin in a most capable manner presided as toastmaster and music for the evening was furnished by the Men About Town Orchestra which was highly complimented for the fine concert which it made to the success of the party.

Pfc. Jasper R. Shepard Is Paid Tribute By Chaplain

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Shepard, 205 1/2 Central avenue, has received a fine letter from Chaplain Wesley L. Kossin, of the 127th AAF Gun Battalion, with which her son, Pfc. Jasper R. Shepard, was serving when he was killed in action in Germany. Excerpts from lengthy communication follow:

"Greetings in the name of our risen Saviour and ever-present Lord. I greet you in the name of Jesus because He is the only one who can adequately comfort you in this time of bereavement caused by the death of your son, Jasper R. Shepard, who was killed in action while out on patrol in the area of Gutersloh, Germany. However, I do sincerely regret your loss and offer my sympathy and assure you of my prayers for you and your daughter, Anna, during these difficult days. His death was almost instantaneous from rifle fire, so that we may be assured he did not suffer.

"I am confident of his faith in Christ for his life in the army was clean and upright in spite of many temptations which army personnel face. He was a regular attendant at my church services and took delight in sharing with me the spiritual literature which came to him from his own church. You will be interested to know that your son was a good soldier, who could be depended upon. He was well thought of by the men who knew him and highly respected by the officers in charge of his section.

"The funeral service was conducted by a Protestant Army Chaplain and his body is interred in the U. S. Military cemetery at Margraten, which is not far from Maastricht, Holland. The cemetery is well kept and is situated in a beautiful section of Holland. If possible, I shall endeavor to get a picture of the cemetery and the grave and send it to you in the next few weeks.

In addition to his sympathetic letter, Chaplain Kossin enclosed a copy of the combined worship service and memorial held for Pfc. Shepard on April 23, somewhere in Germany, together with the following tribute which was read at that time:

"Pfc. Jasper R. Shepard of Hq. Btry. was killed in action last night while he was on MP duty in Gutersloh, Germany. He was sent out on patrol with three others and was killed on their return trip.

"Those who knew him best mourn his passing most. There is nothing we can say or do that will bring him back or that will be of any benefit to him now that he is gone. However, a few words of tribute and appreciation are in order. Doubtless there are many here who could cite admirable qualities and characteristics of Shepard, but this bit of recognition and your own words of tribute to each other will serve to help us realize that all the good that we do is making an impression on others, though they never express any appreciation while we live. We should also be reminded that bouquets, whether of flowers or words, are of more value to anyone while he is living than after death.

"Shepard was a good soldier in the Battalion Supply Section whose faithfulness, dependability, honesty and clean living were appreciated especially by Captain Faircloth, the Bn. Supply Officer. He is going to be missed not only by Captain Faircloth, Mr. Segal and his section, but by all of us who knew him.

"His departure adds to our responsibility in getting this spiritual and military job done. Let us take up the torch he has dropped and go forward with greater determination to please God and finish the task He has given us to do."

Is Recipient Of Silver Star For Gallantry

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Leichtenberger, of Brookston, have received word from their son, Leroy B. Leichtenberger, somewhere in Germany, that he has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action. Accompanying the decoration is the following citation:

"Pfc. Leroy B. Leichtenberger, field artillery, for gallantry in action on 23 February 1945 in the vicinity of . . . Germany. The assault boat of which Private Leichtenberger was a member was carried downstream by the strong current and came ashore directly opposite a German machine gun which opened fire. After having found cover for himself, Private Leichtenberger returned to the boat and removed a wounded man to safety. Later he exposed himself to grazing machine gun fire to aid in carrying another wounded man to medical aid. His gallant actions and great courage were in accordance with the highest traditions of the military service."

Since receiving this award, the young soldier has been promoted to corporal. While his present whereabouts are not revealed in his letter, he has written home that he had part in the battle of the Ruhr.

PLEASANT REUNION

Ted writes he has had two very pleasant visits recently with S/Sgt. Richard J. Underwood, of the signal corps and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Underwood, 614 Conewago avenue. Within the past few weeks he has also had the good fortune to meet Chief Pharmacist's Mate Leland Amann and his brother, Eddie, former North Warren boys parents now reside in Buffalo, and Pharmacist's Mate John Nicholson, whose mother lives on State street, North Warren. ## Parachute Sent to Wife Has a History

Mrs. Charles R. Knupp, 113 Pioneer street, received yesterday a parachute which had been used by her husband, Lt. Knupp, in a very unique manner.

On April 25 his crew flew its last mission before V-E Day and while over the target, which was Linz, Austria, the complete hydraulic system of their B-24 Liberator bomber was torn away by an 88-mm flak shell.

The flaps, brakes and landing gear all work hydraulically and in order to land the plane when they got back to the base it was necessary to crank the gear down by hand, pump the flaps down manually and, as they landed, parachutes were popped out the waist windows to provide braking power.

Lt. Knupp, who has just been promoted to first lieutenant, has been stationed with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

"I'm planning for 'peace and quiet' in my kitchen —with Gas refrigeration"

"You see, I'm doing some post-war planning of my own—starting with the kitchen. The very first improvement there will be a new Gas refrigerator as soon after the war as I can get my hands on one. I'm determined to be free of noise and the nuisance of repairs—not to mention the cost!

"All my friends, who have Gas refrigeration now, make me simply green with envy when they talk—and how they talk—about its silence and how seldom it needs repairs—some say never! They explain that this is all because it hasn't got one moving part in its freezing system, so there's just nothing to wear or make it cost more to operate as it gets older.

"That's the kind of 'peace and quiet' I want in my kitchen some day."

It's no exaggeration to say that thousands of our customers would like to change to Gas refrigeration now—to the refrigerator that pays for itself out of savings. They know, however, that none are available at present—for the skill and materials to make them have war jobs for the time being. But shortly, these efficient and beautiful appliances will be back again—finer than ever.

Keep in touch with your Dealer for information on the silent and trouble-proof Gas refrigerator in which a tiny gas flame does all the work.

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the World's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time has come for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. S-375, Los Angeles 4, Calif.
